About the Firm

R.E. Millward + Associates Ltd. is a Toronto-based planning consultancy offering a range of services to public and private sector clients. Founded by former City of Toronto Planning Commissioner Robert Millward in 1997, the firm has completed work on projects of various scales throughout Ontario. Over the years, we have cultivated credibility and demonstrated excellence in managing planning and development application processes, leading public and stakeholder consultations and maintaining excellent working relationships with municipal staff and public agencies.

The firm's approach is rooted in a philosophy of city building, collaboration, integrity and quality research. Our methodology results in sound, implementable strategies that draw upon a diversity of views and ideas. Our final reports and recommendations become truly useful decision-making tools for our public and private sector clients. Our work is multi-faceted, ranging from projects involving single buildings to transit corridors for public, private and institutional clients. We undertake planning studies, planning approvals, research, due diligence and provide strategic advice to clients in the public and private sector.

We are a small team of professionals committed to building a livable, sustainable region and an outstanding city.
